David Seglin to Join Rafael Vinoly Architects

Friends & Colleagues:

I am very excited to announce that I will be continuing my architectural career in January 2010 with the New York firm of Rafael Vinoly Architects. Over the past twenty plus years of private practice in Chicago I have enjoyed the experience of collaborating on great projects with great clients and friends. While this is not to say that I am permanently leaving Chicago, the invitation to join such a firm with an international reputation is the realization of a personal career goal.

For the near future I will be in New York City, after which the plan is to relocate to Abu Dhabi where RVA will be undertaking several exciting projects. Beyond that, who knows? In the meantime, continue to contact me at david@davidseglin.com and visit my web site for news and updates at <http://www.davidseglin.com> or <http://www.linkedin.com/in/davidseglin> .
